

If the noun is unknown, "nogen" is for people (someone) and "noget" is for everything else (something)

The term "unreal" (irrealis) is for nouns which are not conceptualised as existing such as with negation and questions: Har du nógen penge? Jeg har ikke nogen penge. It is also possible to use "Hár du nogle penge" with stress on "har", and then the money is conceptualised as being more likely to exist.
